Copy of letter dated 28th September 1917 from Mr. A. B. Mackintosh, M. A.

Last evening I received an urgent message from the Serg-Major to the effect that a telegram had come from the Brigade Office, Bangalore, asking for an officer to be detailed for immediate duty with the Indian Defence Force. The Officer must leave Mysore this Sunday and the period is one or two months. The Serg-Major wished to know if I would be able to go. At the same time he pointed out that as my name is down on the list of Officers who cannot be called up without previous notice, the question whether I went or not at this time, would depend on whether the Mysore Government were willing to let me go.

As the military authorities are waiting for a reply it is of urgent importance that the University Authorities should inform me or the military at the earliest moment to-day whether they are willing to let me go; since in the event of my not being able to go another officer will have to be selected.
